

What is your name?

Olimpia Ponno - Event Planner, Cross-cultural Communication & Marketing Consultant, Trainer, Coach, HR & Team Specialist, Professional Speaker, Author.

LinkedIn

How or why did you start your job?

I have designed my professional pathway on my own. Starting from my cultural background, interests and competences (travelling, speaking languages, managing people, negotiating) I choose to make experience in different companies of the tertiary market to see things from different perspectives, with an inside-out approach.

What advice would you give someone who is starting his career?

“Start from what you want to do, follow your interests, never give up, be focused on your pathway, join an international community to have an open mindset and grow in an international contest and environment”.